FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Mr. Shashank Manohar
President, BCCI

This Annual General Meeting of the BCCI will be my last as President. I cannot thank my colleagues in the Board enough for standing by me, and ensuring that the Board went from strength to strength, in the past three years.

The Indian cricket team created history on 2nd April 2011, winning the World Cup for the first time since 1983. This achievement was the outcome of splendid cricket.

The World Cup triumph was obviously the highlight of the year. The Indian team did well against Australia, New Zealand and the West Indies in bilateral series, but lost to England subsequently. Considering the team's performances since 2007-08, the defeat in England should be regarded as an aberration. We are confident that the national team will return to its dominant ways sooner than later.

This is a time of transition in Indian cricket. We have players who are in the twilight of their respective careers. At the other end of the spectrum are youngsters who are knocking hard on the doors of the national squad. Some of them have had stints with the national team, and have proved their worth in the shorter forms of the game. The Board would like to ensure a process wherein the seniors groom the juniors, and hand over the reins to them in due course.

On the domestic front, we are pleased to see the progress made by some teams, which were considered 'average' not very long ago. This is a pointer to the excellent work done by the Board and its affiliated units in developing the game across the country.

The Specialist Academies for Batting, Pace Bowling, Spinners, Wicketkeepers and Umpires have done a fine job in complementing the NCA, and there is every reason to believe that the future of Indian cricket is in capable hands.

The fourth edition of the IPL, played in April-May 2011, saw the addition of two teams to the mix. The event was a grand success, like its previous editions.

I wish Mr. N. Srinivasan, who has served the Board with distinction in several capacities over the past few years, all the best, for his tenure as BCCI President.

Thank you once again, to all those who were instrumental in giving me the honour of heading a body as extraordinary as the Board of Control for Cricket in India.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY

Mr. N Srinivasan,
Hon. Secretary, BCCI

We are happy to present the 82nd Annual Report of the BCCI, as approved at the Working Committee Meeting, held on 15 August 2011.

As in previous years the strong leadership & wise counsel of the President Shri. Shashank Manohar was instrumental in the effective and smooth functioning of the BCCI.

The previous twelve months have been memorable for Indian Cricket with the Indian team scaling new heights in all three formats of the game.

Test Matches

The Indian cricket team distinguished itself in the series against Australia, New Zealand and the West Indies. India retained the Border-Gavaskar Trophy, beating Australia 2-0 in a two-match series in October 2010, and went on to beat New Zealand the following month. The team also won a Test series in the West Indies in mid-2011. It was India's third series win in the Caribbean, after 1971 and 2006. The team displayed pluck to square a Test series in South Africa after losing the first Test. It was the first time in five visits to South Africa that India had not lost a Test series. The tour of England was however, a major disappointment, as the Indian team lost all four Tests, and with it, the Number One spot in the ICC Test Rankings.

One-Day Internationals

The World Cup win was obviously the apogee of the team's performances in 2010-11. Team India also won ODI series against Australia and New Zealand at home, and in the West Indies.

World Cup

The national cricket team created history on 2 April 2011, winning the ICC Cricket World Cup after twenty-eight years. That the win was achieved on home turf was the icing on the cake. It marked the culmination of a splendid tournament, wherein the BCCI and its affiliated units excelled themselves in terms of planning, organization and execution. The ICC CWC 2011, co-hosted by India, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh, was a grand success.

Team India emerged triumphant in the game's ultimate event. Mahendra Singh Dhoni's side played nine matches, winning seven, losing one and tying one. India beat former World Cup winners Australia, Pakistan and Sri Lanka in the quarter-final, semi-final and final respectively. It was India's first World Cup win since 1983.

The victory resulted in celebrations across the country, and outside it.

The BCCI announced a reward of ₹ 2 crores to every playing member of the side, and ₹ 50 lakhs to every member of the support-staff.

IPL Season 4

The fourth season of the Indian Premier League saw the addition of two teams – Kochi Tuskers Kerala and Pune Warriors. The number of matches increased to 74, and the format was tweaked. As many as twelve venues played host. Some quality cricket was played in the tournament. Spectators and TV viewers lapped up the tournament, as they had in previous years.

Domestic Cricket

The highlight of the domestic season was Rajasthan's first-ever Ranji Trophy title. The team started the 2010-11 season in the 'Plate' Group, and went all the way to the summit. The achievement, coming as it did from a team that had never won the country's premier domestic competition, was a vindication of the efforts being put in by the BCCI and its affiliated units to develop the game in the so-called 'backwaters' of Indian cricket. Jharkhand's victory in the Vijay Hazare Trophy, just a few years after the state had become a full member of the BCCI, also showcased the remarkable work put in by the apex organization and its constituents in promoting the sport across the length and breadth of the country.

Women's Cricket

The Indian women's team beat the West Indies in an ODI and T20 International series at home, and gave a good account of itself on a tour of England. Seniors Jhulan Goswami and Mithali Raj led the way, and they were complemented by a host of young talents.

Development Projects

The venues hosting the ICC CWC 2011 underwent extensive renovation for the tournament. We are proud to say that the leading international cricketing arenas in our country rank amongst the finest cricket venues in the world, in terms of facilities for the players, spectators and media. Today, virtually every affiliated unit has created, or is in the process of creating, cricket grounds and academies, embellished with all the amenities that help foster outstanding cricket and cricketers. The BCCI is committed to making India the Number One cricketing nation in the world, for a long, long time to come.

ICC CWC 2011 CHAMPIONS

Time stood still for more than a billion people when Mahendra Singh Dhoni, the captain of India, hoisted Nuwan Kulasekhar over long-on for six, at the Wankhede Stadium, on 2 April 2011. The scenes that ensued thereafter, within the venue and outside, featured cheers, champagne, firecrackers and tears. Dhoni's remarkable stroke marked the culmination of Team India's journey to the apex of the sport. The World Cup was India's, after 28 long years! Every member of the squad played his part to perfection, during the six weeks of the tournament. Leading the way were Yuvraj Singh, who was declared the Player of the Tournament for his 362 runs, 15 wickets and four Man-of-the-Match awards, and Zaheer Khan, who topped the bowlers' table with 21 wickets. Sachin Tendulkar essayed some stupendous innings, including hundreds against England and South Africa, and a match-winning 85 in the semi-final against Pakistan. Gautam Gambhir's 97 in the final will go down in history as one of the best knocks ever. Mahendra Singh Dhoni had an ordinary tournament with the bat, but the skipper compensated with an extraordinary 91 in the final. India started the tournament with impressive batting performances against Bangladesh and England. Bangladesh were beaten, but England hit back to secure a tie. Dhoni's team then beat Ireland and Netherlands, before going down to South Africa at Nagpur. That defeat was a turning point of sorts, with the team swearing to improve upon its shortcomings. Team India set itself up for the knockout stage with an impressive performance against the West Indies at Chennai. The quarter-final against defending champions Australia at Ahmedabad, the semi-final against Pakistan at Mohali, and the final against Sri Lanka at Mumbai, were made memorable by a team that strove to excel itself on all fronts.

The Indian cricket team did the nation proud. Rarely in history has so much been owed by more than a billion to so few!

SALIENT FEATURES

The tenth ICC World Cricket Cup was co-hosted by India, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh, from 19 February 2011 to 2 April 2011. It was the third time India had co-hosted a World Cup, after 1983 and 1996.

Mumbai's Wankhede Stadium became the seventh venue to host a World Cup final, when it staged the summit clash of the ICC CWC 2011 on 2 April 2011.

The other venues/cities to have staged the summit clash are as follows:

Lord's, London - 1975, 1979, 1983, 1999

Eden Gardens, Kolkata - 1987

Melbourne Cricket Ground - 1992

Gaddafi Stadium, Lahore - 1996

Wanderers, Johannesburg - 2003

Kensington Oval, Bridgetown - 2007

Mumbai thus became the second Indian city, after Kolkata, to host a World Cup final.

India won the World Cup for the second time. They had earlier won the tournament in 1983, twenty-eight years ago.

Nagpur earned the distinction of staging World Cup matches at two different grounds. The old VCA stadium had played host in 1987 and 1996. Four matches of the 2011 edition were played at the new VCA stadium at Jamtha.

India, the most-experienced team in One-Day Internationals, extended their tally of ODIs to 773, on 2 April 2011, the day they beat Sri Lanka in the ICC CWC 2011 final. India had debuted in ODIs on 13 July 1974, with a game against England at Headingley, Leeds.

A CENTURY OF TESTS BETWEEN INDIA AND ENGLAND

THE 2000TH TEST, AND A CENTURY OF TESTS BETWEEN INDIA AND ENGLAND

History was created on 21 July 2011, when India took on England in the first Test of a four-match series, at the Lord's Cricket Ground in London.

It was the 2000th Test match of all time. Australia and England played the inaugural Test, in February 1877, at the Melbourne Cricket Ground. Pakistan and New Zealand contested the 1000th Test, at Hyderabad (Pakistan) in November 1984.

The Test match also marked the completion of a century of Test cricket between India and England. Coincidentally, Lord's also hosted the first Test between the two countries, in June 1932.

The Test was preceded by a presentation ceremony. Mr. Shashank Manohar, President, BCCI, and Mr. N. Srinivasan, Hon. Secretary, BCCI, presented a plaque on the Board's behalf to Mr. Giles Clarke, Chairman, ECB, and Mr. David Collier, Chief Executive, ECB.

The plaque bears information pertaining to the hundred Tests between the two countries, like the year / season in which each Test match / series was played, the number of matches played in the series, and the names of the rival captains in each series.

Douglas Jardine (England) and Col. C.K. Nayudu (India), rival captains in the inaugural Test between England and India.

Mr. N. Srinivasan, Hon. Secretary, BCCI, and Mr. Shashank Manohar, President, BCCI, present a commemorative plaque to Mr. Giles Clarke, Chairman, ECB, and Mr. David Collier, Chief Executive, ECB.

21 July 2011 - The 100th Test between India and England, and the 2000th of all time, gets underway - Rival captains Andrew Strauss (England) and Mahendra Singh Dhoni (India) at the toss. MEN'S INTERNATIONAL

INDIA V AUSTRALIA (TESTS AND ODIS)

TEST SERIES

Mohali : 1st – 5th October 2010,

Bangalore : 9th – 13th October 2010

The world's no. 1 team lived up to its reputation in the two-Test series.

The first Test witnessed 400-plus scores by both teams on the first three days, with Australia gaining a slender lead of twenty-three. The bowlers took over on the fourth. Australia were bowled out for 192, with Zaheer Khan adding three scalps to his five in the first innings. India needed 216 in just over a day's play, but the Australian bowlers hit back on the fourth evening. At 55-4 on the fifth morning, it was all up to Sachin Tendulkar, who had scored 98 in the first essay, to take his team home. He did his best, but fell to an attempted cut at 38. M.S. Dhoni was run out, and the Aussies were in control when the eighth wicket fell at 124. At the crease were Ishant Sharma, who was known to put a price on his wicket, but was battling a leg injury, and VVS Laxman, who was combating a bad back.

The events on the afternoon of 5 October 2010 will live forever in the minds of all those who watched them, either at the ground or on television. Laxman forgot the excruciating pain to compile yet another epic performance against his favourite side, and Ishant epitomized application. By the time the paceman fell, the target was only eleven runs away. Pragyan Ojha, the number eleven, survived a leg-before appeal, and gained four overthrows in the process. Only two were required when a Mitchell Johnson delivery flicked Ojha's pad and sped towards the fine-leg fence. Ojha and Raina – Laxman's runner – completed a frantic two, to trigger celebrations across the country. It was the first instance of an Indian team winning a Test by one wicket.

Test cricket's Holy Grail - M.S. Dhoni receives the Border-Gavaskar Trophy from Mr. Sunil Gavaskar.

Australia batted first in the second Test at Bangalore, and scored 478. India replied with 495, courtesy a brilliant 214 by Sachin Tendulkar, his sixth double ton in Tests, and 139 by Murali Vijay, who had replaced the injured Gambhir in the eleven. Zaheer Khan and his co-bowlers provided another virtuoso display in the second innings, dismissing Australia for 223.

There was some tension when Sehwag fell early on the fifth day, with his side in pursuit of a target of 207. However, it was dispelled by Vijay and the debutant Cheteshwar Pujara, who came in at no. 3. Pujara's drives and pulls were splendid, his footwork outstanding, and his temperament exemplary. India were only sixty-one short when he was the third to fall, for 72. Sachin Tendulkar and Rahul Dravid closed it out, with the first-innings double centurion remaining unbeaten on 53.

The win made it a hat-trick of successful 200-plus chases by India in Tests. It was the first instance of Australia losing all the Tests in a series, since 1982-83. While India retained the Border-Gavaskar Trophy and no. 1 ranking in Tests, the Australians slipped to no. 5 on the table as a result of the '0-2' defeat.

ONE-DAY SERIES

The first and third matches of the three-match series, scheduled to be played at Kochi and Goa respectively, were abandoned due to rain. India took the series 1-0, by virtue of their five-wicket win in the second ODI at Vishakhapatnam. Asked to bat first, Australia scored 289-3 in the allotted overs. India chased down the total in 48.4 overs. Virat Kohli scored a fine 118, and Yuvraj Singh and Suresh Raina contributed impressive fifties.

INDIA V NEW ZEALAND (TESTS AND ODIS)

TEST SERIES

First Test: Ahmedabad, 4th - 8th November 2010

Second Test: Hyderabad, 12th - 16th November 2010

Third Test: Nagpur, 20th - 24th November 2010

The hosts beat Daniel Vettori's side 1-0 and 5-0 in the Test and ODI series respectively.

The first Test at Ahmedabad witnessed some solid batting by both sides in the first innings. A draw seemed imminent when India began their second innings on the fourth afternoon. However, an incisive spell by paceman Chris Martin turned the match on its head. The hosts were 15-5 even before they themselves realized it, and the Kiwis were well and truly in the driver's seat. Once again, VVS Laxman, the 'crisis man,' did not disappoint. His ally was Harbhajan Singh, who came in at 65-6 and went on to complete his maiden Test hundred.

The second Test at Hyderabad witnessed another stalemate. The batsmen from both sides flourished, even as the bowlers floundered. Harbhajan became the first 'no. 8' batsman in Test history to score two consecutive hundreds. The hosts' bid to seize the initiative was thwarted by Brendon McCullum, who compiled a classy double hundred in the second innings.

Daniel Vettori won the toss at the start of the third Test at Nagpur, only for his team to squander the advantage and be dismissed for 193. The Indians proceeded to bat their opponents out of the match. Sehwag and Gambhir got fifties, and Rahul Dravid, whose presence in the side had been questioned by some at the start of the series, then essayed an epic 191. It was his second ton of the series. M.S. Dhoni was unlucky to fall on 98. New Zealand, 373 runs in arrears, were bowled out for 175, leaving India winners by a whopping innings and 198 runs. Ishant Sharma took three wickets to add to his four in the first innings.

ONE-DAY SERIES

Guwahati – 28th November 2010

Jaipur (D/N) – 1st December 2010

Baroda – 4th December 2010

Bengaluru (D/N) – 7th December 2010

Chennai (D/N) – 10th December 2010

To say that India dominated the five-match ODI series would be an understatement. That the hosts completed a clean sweep despite the absence of Dhoni, Tendulkar, Sehwag, Harbhajan and Zaheer Khan, was the icing on the cake. The hosts won the first encounter at Guwahati by forty runs, and the second game at Jaipur by eight wickets. Virat Kohli scored 105 at Guwahati, and Gautam Gambhir, who had been assigned the captaincy for the series, scored an unbeaten 138 at Jaipur.

Gambhir's unbeaten 126 in the third game at Baroda won him his second consecutive Man of the Match award, and with it, the series.

With only their pride to play for in the last two games, the Kiwis came hard at the Indian bowlers at Bengaluru's

M. Chinnaswamy Stadium. A score of 315-7 meant that the Indians were under pressure for the first time in the series. There were some worried faces in the Indian camp when the match resumed after a rain-interruption, with the score 203-5 off thirty-six overs.

Yusuf Pathan deposited the first ball after the resumption over the long-on boundary. That one stroke set the stage for some unbelievable cricket. Pathan completed his hundred in only seventy-nine balls, and remained undefeated on 123, inclusive of seven fours and the same number of sixes. Sourav Tiwary played second fiddle for 37, and India made it '4-0' with seven deliveries to spare.

The Kiwis tumbled to 103 all out in only the twenty-seventh over in the fifth ODI at Chennai. Gambhir and Kohli fell cheaply in response, but Parthiv Patel and Yuvraj Singh finished it off in double-quick time.

It was only the second time India had won all the ODIs in a bilateral series, after the subjugation of England by the same margin in 2008-09.

INDIA V SOUTH AFRICA (TESTS, T20 INTERNATIONAL AND ODIS)

TEST SERIES

First Test: Centurion,
16th – 20th December 2010

Second Test: Durban,
26th - 29th December 2010

Third Test: Capetown,
2nd - 6th January 2011

The much-touted duel between the world's top two sides lived up to its billing.

India began disastrously, being shot out for 136 in the first innings of the opening Test at Centurion. The South African pacemen made short work of the Indian batting in helpful conditions. In contrast, their Indian counterparts struggled when the hosts batted. South Africa amassed 620-4, with Jacques Kallis completing his first double hundred in Tests. India commenced their second innings, a staggering 486 runs in arrears.

The Numero Unos of Test cricket then set out to fight. Openers Sehwag and Gambhir put on 137. However, the middle order wobbled, with the notable exception of Sachin

Honours shared in South Africa

Tendulkar. Dhoni joined him at 277-6, and the duo put on 172. The cricketing world stood up to applaud when the Indian maestro completed his fiftieth Test hundred. Dhoni fell for 90, and the visitors eventually lost by an innings and 25 runs. The silver lining was the fact that they had scored 459 in the second innings after the catastrophe in the first.

The Boxing Day Test at Durban was a remarkable game of cricket. Dhoni lost the toss once again, and India were put in to bat in bowler-friendly conditions. They were bowled out for an unimpressive 205. Then came the turnaround, as the Indian bowlers hit back to terminate the South African first innings for 131. Like Tendulkar in the previous Test, Rahul Dravid rewrote the record books by becoming the first fielder in Test history to take 200 catches, when he dived to his left to snap up Dale Steyn off Harbhajan Singh. Harbhajan and Zaheer Khan bagged four and three wickets respectively.

It was then déjà vu time for Indian supporters, as VVS Laxman walked into a potential crisis at 48-3, and proceeded to put his side on the road to a famous victory. Aided by Dhoni and Zaheer, the artiste took India to 228 and an overall lead of 302, his personal contribution being 96. The Proteas began their pursuit in rollicking fashion, but Sreesanth broke through at 63, dismissing Graeme Smith. That gave India an opening, and they steadily piled on the pressure. The highlight of the innings was the delivery that Sreesanth produced to get rid of Kallis. It reared off a good length, forcing the batsman to take evasive action. Kallis got his head out of the firing line, but not his gloves, and the ball flew off them to Sehwag at gully. India's 87-run win exorcised the ghosts of their 1996 drubbing at the same venue, wherein they had been dismissed for scores of 100 and 66.

It would be appropriate to say that the decider at Capetown epitomized everything that Test Match cricket stands for. It witnessed brilliant batting, bowling and fielding, as also stirring displays of tenacity and resilience. Dhoni finally called correctly and sent the hosts in. They scored 362, with Kallis getting 161. India scored 364, with Tendulkar scoring 146, his 51st Test ton. Gautam Gambhir, who had missed the second Test, scored a gritty 93. There was excitement in the Indian camp when South Africa lost their fifth second-innings wicket at 98, but the hosts then worked their way back. Leading the way yet again was Kallis, who defied a bad back to score his second hundred of the match. The pressure was back on India at the end of the fourth day, with a target of 340 to be scored in a day.

Pacemen Steyn and Morne Morkel came hard at the Indian openers on the fifth morning, only to be thwarted. Gambhir scored a heroic 64, during which he took a couple of blows on the hands. The match was called off at the end of the 82nd over, with India 166-3, and the teams shared the trophy.

ONE-OFF T20 INTERNATIONAL

Durban, 9 January

India prevailed by 21 runs in the one-off T20 International, played for the Krish Mackerdhuj Trophy, at the Moses Mabhida Stadium in Durban. Rohit Sharma (53) and Suresh Raina (41) enabled India to reach 168-6.

The Indian bowlers then restricted the Proteas to 147-9. The game marked the swansong of Makhaya Ntini, one of the all-time greats. It also commemorated the 150th anniversary of the arrival of Indians on South African soil.

ONE-DAY SERIES

Durban (D/N) – 12th January 2011

Johannesburg (D/N) -15th January 2011

Cape Town (D/N) – 18th January 2011

Port Elizabeth (D/N) – 21st January 2011

Centurion – 23rd January 2011

India took a 2-1 lead in the five-match series, only to lose the last two games and with it, the series. The Proteas won the first game by 135 runs, and were seemingly cruising to victory in the second, with only 191 to win, when the Indians engineered a sensational turnaround, winning by one run. Munaf Patel was the best bowler, with four scalps. The Indian bowling put up another inspired showing in the third game at Cape Town, dismissing South Africa for 220. India were in a spot of bother at 93-5, before Yusuf Pathan essayed a gem of an innings. His 59 inspired the lower order to take the team past the finishing line. South Africa won the fourth game, played at Port Elizabeth, by forty-four runs. For India, Kohli essayed a magnificent hand of 87. His innings notwithstanding, India were 142-6 from 32.5 overs when it started raining. The D/L calculations were invoked, and India were found to be forty-eight runs short of the par score. Put in to bat in the fifth game at Centurion, the hosts scored 250-9 from forty-six overs. The rain-interruption during the South African innings brought the D/L calculations into the picture for the second successive time in the series, and India's target was revised to 268. The visitors could never really get going, with wickets falling constantly, and at 119-8, the match was as good as over. Pathan then launched an extraordinary counterattack. He completed a hundred in only sixty-eight balls, but Morne Morkel, who had bowled brilliantly in the series, had the last laugh, having him caught. India eventually fell short by thirty-three runs.

INDIA V WEST INDIES (T20 INTERNATIONAL, ODIS AND TESTS)

T20I – Port of Spain, 4 June.

ODI SERIES:

Port of Spain – 6 June and 8 June

North Sound, Antigua – 11 June and 13 June

Kingston – 16 June

The Indian team won the solitary T20 International by 16 runs. The visitors proceeded to clinch the five-match ODI series by winning the first three games. A professional bowling display restricted the West Indies to 214-8 in the first ODI. India prevailed by four wickets, with Shikhar Dhawan and Rohit Sharma scoring fifties, and Suresh Raina, who was leading India in the absence of M.S. Dhoni and Gautam Gambhir, getting 43. The D/L method was invoked in the second ODI, after the West Indies had scored 240-9. Rain led to the revision of the target to 183 from 37 overs. India came through with 3.2 overs to spare. Virat Kohli top-scored with 81, and opener-keeper Parthiv Patel got 56.

Amit Mishra was India's best bowler earlier in the day, with figures of 4-31. Munaf Patel took three wickets.

Needing to win the last three matches to take the series, the hosts did their best in the third ODI. After being restricted to 225-8, courtesy another disciplined bowling performance by India, the Windies reduced the visitors to 92-6 at one stage. However, India scraped through by three wickets, to take an unbeatable '3-0' lead in the series. The chase was controlled by Rohit Sharma, who scored an outstanding 86. He was complemented by Harbhajan Singh and Praveen Kumar, who scored 41 and an unbeaten 25 respectively. Mishra and Munaf had another productive day with the ball, with three wickets apiece.

13 June 2011 was India's worst day of the tour. The visitors were bundled out for 146 in response to the West Indies' 249-8. Leg-spinner Anthony Martin took 4-36. India's only consolation was Rohit Sharma's 39.

India batted first for the first time in the series, in the final encounter at Sabina Park, Kingston. The visitors scored 251, but were guilty of not batting through the full fifty overs. Kohli scored 94, and Sharma's 57 marked the culmination of a fruitful series. The Indian bowling was then undone by an outstanding batting display. Darren Bravo's 86 and Ramnaresh Sarwan's 75 enabled the West Indies to narrow the margin of their series defeat to '2-3'. They won by seven wickets.

Rohit Sharma's consistency earned him the Player of the Series Award.

TEST SERIES

Kingston, Jamaica –

20 June – 23 June

Bridgetown, Barbados –

28 July – 2 August,

Roseau, Dominica –

6 July – 10 July.

For the Test series, India welcomed back skipper Mahendra Singh Dhoni, Rahul Dravid and VVS Laxman.

The first Test was made memorable by Dravid, who continued from where he had left off on India's previous visit in 2006. His 81 and 68 in the final Test of that series had sealed India's second Test series triumph in the Caribbean, and first since 1971.

In June 2011, the West Indies were bowled out for 173 after restricting India to 246 in the first innings. Dravid then followed his 40 in the first innings, with a masterly 112 in the second. The significance of his hundred was underscored by the fact that no other Indian batsman passed 28. Ishant Sharma and Praveen Kumar then made the initial incisions, and they were backed by the spin duo of Harbhajan Singh and Amit Mishra. The final victory margin of 63 runs would have been higher, had the Windies tail not indulged in some lusty hitting.

India could have won the second Test as well, had rain not intervened throughout the game. They started poorly, being bowled out for 201. Anything could have happened, had Laxman (85) and Raina (53) fallen early. However, the West Indian batting was as ordinary, and India gained a lead of 11. Laxman's 87 and Dravid's 55 then enabled Dhoni to declare early on the fifth day, and set the hosts a target of 281 from 83 overs. Ishant Sharma, who had figures of 6-55 in the first innings, took four more wickets to complete his first 'ten-for' in Tests, but the West Indies hung on for a draw. They were 202-7 at the close. Darren Bravo (73) and Carlton Baugh (46) were their heroes.

Another obdurate batting performance thwarted the Indians in the third Test. Harbhajan Singh became the third Indian to take 400 Test wickets when he bowled Carlton Baugh in the first innings. The visitors were in command, after scoring 347 in response to West Indies' 204, frequent rain-interruptions notwithstanding. However, newcomer Kirk Edwards and veteran Shivnarine Chanderpaul dropped anchor. Both batsmen scored hundreds, and the Indians were further frustrated by paceman Fidel Edwards, who scored a dour 30. Needing 180 to win from 47 overs, India began brightly, but put down the shutters after losing a couple of wickets.

India thus took the series 1-0. Ishant Sharma was named Player of the Series for his twenty-two wickets.

INDIA V ENGLAND (TESTS)

The Test series against England was disastrous for Team India. All four Tests were lost, making it the first instance since 1974 of England 'sweeping' a series against India. In the process, England bagged the title of the world's number one Test team, and India, the leaders at the start of the series, slid to the third position.

India's woes in the series could be attributed to Lacklustre batting and bowling, a spate of injuries, and some outstanding cricket by its opponent.

The series began at Lord's, in what was the 2000th Test match of all time, and the 100th Test between England and India. A double hundred by Kevin Pietersen gave England the edge, and the hosts went on to win by 196 runs. India struggled after Zaheer Khan left the field injured, which eventually forced him to undergo an ankle surgery.

Mahendra Singh Dhoni called correctly and elected to bowl for the second time in the series, in the second Test at Nottingham. With England 124-8, India seemed to be holding all the aces, only for Stuart Broad to launch a counterattack. India lost only four wickets in overhauling England's 221, and with Rahul Dravid and Yuvraj Singh batting well, a significant lead seemed imminent. But Broad asserted himself once again, this time with the ball. His hattrick was instrumental in India being bowled out for 288. England a massed 544 in the second innings, and bowled India out for 158, winning by a massive 319 runs.

For the second consecutive time in the series, India played with only three specialist bowlers, after Harbhajan Singh strained a muscle during the game and was ruled out for the rest of the tour. Yuvraj Singh fractured a finger and thus suffered the same fate.

England took the series in the third Test at Birmingham, winning by an innings and 224 runs. India batted first, but could score only 224 and 244 as opposed to England's 710-7. Alistair Cook top-scored for England, with 294.

Ian Bell became the third England batsman to score a double hundred in the series, in the fourth Test at the Oval. England declared at 591-6, and then dismissed India for 300 and 283. Gautam Gambhir, who had missed the second Test due to injury, batted in both innings at no. 8, after suffering a concussion, and Praveen Kumar, India's best bowler of the first three Tests, could not play on account of an ankle injury.

India's saving grace on one of their most catastrophic tours of all time was Rahul Dravid. He scored 103 at Lord's, 117 at Nottingham, and an unbeaten 146 at the Oval – the last two as an opening batsman. He embodied technique and temperament, and underscored his reputation as one of the game's all-time greats.

INDIA V WEST INDIES

ONE-DAY SERIES

Mumbai – 10 January

Baroda - 13 and 15 January

Rajkot – 18 and 19 January

Jhulan Goswami's girls beat the West Indies tourists in the five-match ODI series and three-match T20 International Series, both of which witnessed some quality cricket.

The visitors got off to a flying start in the ODI series, beating the hosts by nine wickets at the MCA Recreation Centre, Mumbai. West Indies lost only one wicket in their pursuit of a target of 162. Off-spinner Anisha Mohammed bagged four wickets, and opener Stefani Taylor scored a fine 85. India drew level in a low-scoring affair at Baroda. Bowled out for 134, the hosts dismissed the visitors for 124. Left-arm spinner Gouhar Sultana bagged 3-10. The West Indies then hit back in the third game, also played at Baroda. The Indian batswomen could not get going, and it was only Amita Sharma's 35 that helped India reach 156. Taylor put her side on the road to victory with an innings of 45, her second match-winning knock of the series.

India had everything to play for in the last two ODIs, both of which were to be played at Rajkot. The batting finally came good, with Mithali Raj scoring a magnificent 109. India scored 216-4. Taylor batted beautifully once again, but the Indian bowling and fielding wore top-class, and the visitors finished ten runs short.

India batted first in the decider and got 188-9, Amita Sharma top-scoring with 47. The Windies suffered a big blow when Taylor fell cheaply. The Indians then built up the pressure. Leg-spinner Priyanka Roy, who had scored 33 earlier in the day, was the pick of the bowlers, with 3-26. India prevailed by fifty-seven runs to win the series 3-2.

T20 INTERNATIONALS

Ahmedabad – 22 January, 23 January, 24 January

India dominated the first game, winning by six wickets. Goswami bowled excellently, finishing with 2-8 from her allotted overs. Her side then reached the target of 90 with more than two overs to spare. Mithali Raj top-scored with 27.

The second game was a thriller. Batting first, the West Indies scored 107-7, with Juliana Nero getting 44. Roy was India's best bowler, with 4-19. Poonam Raut (30) and Hamnapreet Kaur (33) batted well in response, but they had little support. Only one other teammate – Reema Malhotra – entered double figures. The West Indies bowlers and fielders gave nothing away, and kept striking at regular intervals. India finished with 104-8.

As had happened in the ODI series, the Indian batting clicked at the crunch. India batted first in the decider and scored 128-5, with premier batswoman Mithali Raj contributing 51. The bowlers then took over, and Roy completed a memorable series with 3-17. The West Indies were restricted to 113-9, and India took the series 2-1.

23 June - v/s Australia, Billericay

25 June – v/s New Zealand, Bristol

26 June – v/s England, Taunton

27 June – v/s New Zealand, Aldershot.

India got off to a disastrous start in the T20 Quadrangular series. Put in to bat by Australia, India were blown away for 62. Harmanpreet Kaur was the saving grace, with a knock of 41 that featured three fours and two sixes. India's second-highest individual contribution was four. Australia went on to win by eight wickets.

The next game against New Zealand was lost as well, with India scoring 100-7 in response to the opposition's 125-5. Skipper Jhulan Goswami and her new-ball partner Snehal Pradhan took three wickets each in the final round-robin encounter against England, but the hosts scored 134, and restricted India to 88-8.

The Indians then snatched a consolation win over New Zealand, in the third place play-off. The Kiwis scored 95-7, and Goswami took her team through with an unbeaten 33. India won by three wickets.

Jhulan Goswami returned her career-best ODI figures of 6-31 in the round-robin game against New Zealand.

QUADRANGULAR ODI TOURNAMENT

30 June – v/s England at Derby

2 July – v/s Australia at Chesterfield

5 July – v/s New Zealand at Southgate

7 July – v/s New Zealand at Aston Rowant.

The ODI series followed a pattern similar to the T20 series. India lost all three round-robin encounters, and won the third place play-off, once again beating New Zealand.

Fifties by Poonam Raut and Veda Krishnamurthy put India on course for a competitive total in their first league game against England. India finished with 202-9, but the bowling floundered, as England won by six wickets.

The next game against Australia was a thriller. Raut scored her second successive fifty of the competition, and Mithali Raj missed hers by one run, as India totalled 215. Australian opener Shelley Nitschke, who announced her retirement at the end of the tournament, scored a fine 78. Australia seemed in no trouble at 121-1, before the Indians struck back. Goswami and left-arm spinners Gouhar Sultana and Ekta Bisht bagged two wickets each, as the match headed for a photo-finish. Australian captain Jodie Fields scored a crucial 11, and Sarah Coyte took her team through off the very last ball.

Goswami bowled excellently in the third league game against New Zealand, finishing with figures of 6-31, her best in ODIs. However, India failed to overhaul a gettable target of 202, losing by 39 runs.

India avenged the loss two days later, with a victory in the third place play-off. India were put in to bat, and dismissed for 150. The bowlers then excelled themselves, bowling New Zealand out for 118. Seamer Amita Sharma and Ekta Bisht took three wickets each, and Goswami chipped in with two.

Poonam Raut scored two fifties in the ODI series.

COL. C. K. NAYUDU LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

Salim Durrani receives the Col. C.K. Nayudu Lifetime Achievement Award from Mr. Shashank Manohar, President, BCCI, on 31 May 2011.

SALIM DURRANI, the charismatic all-rounder who served Indian cricket with distinction in the 1960s and 70s, was the recipient of the BCCI's Col. C.K. Nayudu Lifetime Achievement Award, during the annual BCCI Awards Ceremony, held in Mumbai on 31 May 2011. The award comprised a trophy and cheque for ₹ 15 lakhs. Born in 1934 in Kabul, Afghanistan, Durrani was an aggressive left-handed batsman, and an outstanding left-arm spinner. He was one of the chief architects of India's first Test series triumph over England, in 1961-62. India won the last two Tests of the five-match series, after the first three were drawn. Durrani had match figures of 8-113 in the fourth Test at Kolkata, and 10-177 in the fifth at Chennai. A few months later, Durrani was one of the heroes of a dismal tour of the Caribbean, with his belligerent 104 in a Test at Port of Spain. It was at the same venue that he helped shape a historic Test win – India's first in the West Indies – on the national team's next tour, in 1970-71. Brought on to bowl at a crucial stage of the second Test, Durrani dismissed Garfield Sobers and Clive Lloyd, two of West Indies' most formidable batsmen, in quick succession. India won the Test by seven wickets, and maintained their 1-0 lead to take the series. Two seasons later, Durrani's consistency with the bat, especially in crunch situations, enabled India to achieve another Test series win over England at home. His proficiency with bat and ball took Central Zone to their first-ever Duleep Trophy win, in 1971-72. One of the most popular cricketers of his time, who was known to hit a 'six on demand', Durrani represented India in a total of twenty-nine Tests, scoring 1,202 runs @ 25. He took 75 wickets, inclusive of three five-wicket hauls.

The previous winners of the C. K. Nayudu Lifetime Achievement Award are as follows:

DLF IPL-SEASON 4

8 April 2011-28 May 2011

Champions again!!!! The Chennai Super Kings with the spoils of victory.

The Indian Premier League sparked in its fourth edition. Not only did the world's premier domestic T20 tournament witness some brilliant performances in its latest avatar, but it also saw the addition of two new franchises to the league. In that sense alone, IPL – 2011 was, definitely bigger and better.

Pune Warriors India and Kochi Tuskers Kerala tapped into the league's growing fan-base, as they went on to articulate the enthusiasm for the game in two premier cities in Western and Southern India.

Lasith Malinga – Winner of the Purple Cap, with 28 wickets from 16 matches.

For the other eight teams, who had partnered in the league's growth since its inception, IPL 2011 marked a new beginning. With the exception of a few players, who were retained by their respective franchises, the make-up of all teams underwent a complete overhaul, following the player auction in January 2011.

Spread over 51 days and 74 matches, IPL 2011 was a conglomeration of action, excitement and outstanding performances. It also brought to the fore, a new format in the knockout stage, called the 'Playoffs', which looked to reward consistency.

IPL-4 got a brand new trophy with the Sanskrit words 'Yatra Pratibha Avsara Prapnotihi' inscribed on it, which translate to – 'Where talent meets opportunity.' For a host of young Indian cricketers, that was the essence of this edition of the IPL. Whether it was Paul Valthaty of Kings XI Punjab with his 463 runs, which included an explosive 63-ball 120 against Chennai Super Kings that earned him the Best individual performance of the IPL 2011 award, or spinners Rahul Sharma and Iqbal Abdulla who bagged 16 wickets each, IPL 2011 served as the ideal platform for a host of aspiring Indian cricketers to prove themselves on the big stage. Abdulla, adjudged the Emerging Player of the Tournament, even reiterated the significance of the IPL for breaking into the national side.

Kolkata Knight Riders made it past the league stage for the first time since the inception of the IPL, but came up short in the playoffs, against a recharged Mumbai Indians squad. However, neither Mumbai nor RCB were anywhere near as clinical as the Chennai Super Kings at the business end of the tournament. The defending champions repeated their IPL success, the highlight of their campaign being their unbeaten record at home.

Mr. Chirayu Amin, Chairman, IPL, presents the Orange Cap to Chris Gayle.

Mahendra Singh Dhoni, captain, Chennai Super Kings, is presented the magnificent new winners' trophy by Mr. Shashank Manohar, President, BCCI.

Mahendra Singh Dhoni receives the Kingfisher Fair Play Award on behalf of his team, Chennai Super Kings, from Mr. Sanjay Aggarwal, CEO, Kingfisher Airlines.

Iqbal Abdulla with the Emerging Player of the Tournament Trophy.

Paul Valthaty is presented with the Best Individual Performance of the Tournament Award - the keys to a Volkswagen Passat - by Mr. Neeraj Garg, Member of the Board, and Director, Volkswagen Passenger Cars.

CHAMPIONS LEAGUE T20 (2010)

Winner of CL T20 2010

The second edition of the Champions League Twenty20 catapulted the nascent competition to the international stage, thanks to the combination of high-quality cricket played in the best spirit between diverse sides made up of veterans and young players alike. IPL 2010 winners Chennai Super Kings went on to claim the title of 'Champions'. With M S Dhoni at the helm, and stars like Murali, Doug Bollinger, Michael Hussey and Suresh Raina in the line-up, the Chennai boys went past the finishing line confidently and without too many hiccups, reinforcing their position as a world-class side capable of beating the best in the business, whatever the conditions.

Murali Vijay receives the Golden Bat for being the highest scorer in the tournament, from Dr. Mtuzeli Nyoka, President, Cricket South Africa.

The Royal Challengers Bangalore, bettered by the Chennai side in a rain-interrupted game at Durban, showed why they are considered one of the world's best T20 clubs, with big names that consistently get the job done when the team requires it. The Mumbai Indians left the competition on a high after some early disappointments, falling short of the points to qualify for the semis.

The competition that began as a 16-day adventure involving 10 sides from 6 nations, culminated with a superb finale on September 26, 2010. There more plenty of memorable moments that all 10 teams came together to create.

While the world lauds the Chennai Super Kings, winners of a well-fought competition, there plenty to look back and marvel at. The tournament proved that a T20 game can be as much of a tactical battle as any of the longer formats. The CLT20 2010 fortnight was a high-quality mix of sports and entertainment played out in some magnificent stadia of the South Africa.

Davy Jacobs, captain of the Warriors, receives the Runners-Up cheque from Mr. Cassim Docrat, CEO, Gauteng Cricket Board.

Ravichandran Ashwin of the Chennai Super Kings with the Player of The Series Trophy.

EMERGING PLAYERS TOURNAMENT: JULY – AUGUST 2011

The Indian team with trophy for the T20 series.

The Indian team, captained by Shikhar Dhawan, made its trip to Australia memorable, as India won both the 'T20' and 'Three-day' legs of the annual competition.

India got off to a winning start in the T20 tournament, beating New Zealand by eighteen runs at the WEP Harris Oval in Brisbane. Batting first, India scored 169-4, and then restricted New Zealand to 151-5. India then lost to South Africa by four wickets, the match going all the way to the last ball. Subsequently, India beat Australian Institute of Sport (AIS) by six runs. India scored 151 from the allotted overs, and AIS got to 145. Both games were played at the Fred Kratzman Oval in Brisbane. India took the T20 title by virtue of their superior Net run-rate.

India went on to outplay AIS by seven wickets in their only fifty-over encounter, at the Fred Kratzman Oval. Vinay Kumar and skipper Dhawan took three wickets, and Umesh Yadav and Bhargav Bhatt bagged two each, as AIS collapsed to 99 all out. India overhauled the target with more than thirty overs to spare.

India's first three-day game, against South Africa, at the Allan Border Field, was an absorbing affair. South Africa scored 259, to which India replied with 269-8. South Africa declared at 291-3 in their second innings, setting India a target of 282. A fascinating chase followed, and India finished with 278-6, only four runs short. The highlights of the game were Ajinkya Rahane's 109 in the second innings, and Dhawan's 146 in the first. Vinay Kumar and Iqbal Abdulla impressed with the ball, with three wickets each in the first innings.

India played their last two three-day games at the Endeavour Park No. 2, Townsville. The next game against New Zealand was one-sided. India batted first and amassed 404-6. The Kiwis were then bowled out for 272, and asked to follow-on. The Indian bowlers were as brilliant as in the first innings, and dismissed New Zealand for 239. India knocked off the 108 runs needed to win, for the loss of just one wicket. Manoj Tiwary was India's best batsman of the game, with an innings of 188. Manish Pandey scored 96. His Karnataka state-mate Vinay Kumar notched up another fine performance with the ball, taking five wickets in the game, including four in the second innings. Spinners Abdulla and Bhatt bagged three wickets each in the first innings, and one each in the second.

India signed off with an outstanding batting and bowling performance in the final game against AIS. Varun Aaron (4-40) and Jaydev Unadkat (3-47) were instrumental in restricting AIS to 205. Ajinkya Rahane, Ashok Menaria and Saurabh Tiwary then scored hundreds, and Manoj Tiwary and Manish Pandey contributed fifties, as India totalled 534. The Australians fought back in the second innings, and defied some fine bowling to finish at 328-7.

India were declared the winners of the three-day leg, on account of their having won the maximum number of points (six).

The Indian team is presented the trophy for winning the 'Three-Day' leg by Mr. Peter Raffles, President, Townsville Cricket.
